British Inflict Harm on Army Objectives and Kill Number of Civilians

Britain Is Hit

Nazi Raiders Strike Vital Targets Around London

Berlin, Oct. 8 (AP) - Nightlong German bombing raids on southern England were reported today by the high command, which admitted that British bombers had inflicted casualties and military damage on Berlin in a fierce exchange of air blows.

Besides subjecting this capital to the worst raid it has yet suffered, British fliers struck also at Hamburg, Germany's chief port, and Amsterdam, chief city of the Nazi-occupied Netherlands.

15 persons were killed in Berlin and the death tool eventually might prove considerably higher. In "rolling" attacks throughout the night, the high command re-ported, medium and heavy German bombs fell on traffic points, indus-trial centers and other targets in the London region.

Read, for instance, these few sentences from Adolph Hitler's "Mein Kampf":

"Propaganda has always to be directed more and more towards the feeling, and only to a certain extent to so-called reason. All propaganda has to be popular and has to adapt its spiritual level to the perception of the least intelligent of those towards whom it intends to direct itself.

"The masses, however, with their inertia, always need a certain time before they are ready even to notice a thing, and they will lend their memories only to the thousandfold repetition of the most simple ideas."

Now turn through the newspaper you are reading. Notice the news. See how carefully it is put together to give you a quick and accurate picture of what actually happened everywhere. Look at the respectful way the merchants and manufacturers ask for your patronage. Can you imagine an American advertiser commanding you or threatening you if you refused to like his wares?

Can you imagine your newspaper editor writing down to you, treating you like an animal, to be trained "by the thousandfold repetition of the most simple ideas"?

In your opinion, isn't your role as a free citizen, armed with accurate news and truthful facts about values, a rather desirable role?

It's your opinion that counts. If you and enough of your neighbors want some other system, you can have it. And if you like our present system, it's really up to you to preserve it!

DEWEY'S APPRECIATION

One of the finest tributes ever to be paid Philip Elting in the many years of his successful leadership of the Republican party in Ulster county will be the appearance of Thomas E. Dewey at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium on Thursday evening, when the famous New York District Attorney opens his campaign in support of Wendell L. Willkie, candidate for President on the Republican ticket.

District Attorney Dewey in electing to open his drive in this city is demonstrating his regard for Philip Elting and the residents of Ulster county and expressing his appreciation for the huge plurality of over 10,-000 votes cast for him in the gubernatorial election in 1938. Ulster county has always rolled up a comfortable majority for the candidates on the Republican ticket and for Thomas E. Dewey when he was candidate for governor that majority was greatly increased.

Had registered Republican voters in other upstate counties followed the example of Ulster county citizens, Thomas E. Dewey would now be governor. Upstate counties are now charged with being woefully derelict in voting and if New York state has not been getting true democracy in its elections it is because of sheer inertia in upstate counties. Ulster county is not guilty of these charges and the leadership of Philip Elting in large measure is responsible for this county's excellent standing.

Ulster county extends a warm welcome to Thomas E. Dewey and its residents are eager to greet him when he comes here on Thursday

REGISTRATION DAYS

Tomorrow is the first day of registration of qualified voters in the City of Kingston and the polls will be open from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening in the 13 wards of the city. Thursday, the second day of registration, the polls will be open the same hours.

Every man and women eligible to vote this year should register on Wednesday. There will be three other days in which to register but many things can happen to keep you away from registering on the other days and it is well to bear in mind that unless you are registered you cannot vote.

It is the duty of everyone qualified to exercise his right of franchise this year. The most important privilege an American has is that of voting for the candidate of his choice. This privilege should be exercised.

In the rest of Ulster county outside the City of Kingston there will be two registration days. Thursday, October 12, and Saturday, October 19. Registration in these districts outside the city is non-personal, inspectors of election being charged with the duty of placing upon the registry books the names of qualified voters who appeared upon the last preceding list and are still residents of the district and also the names of new voters who may have moved into the district during the year. However, even in these districts where personal registration is not required wise voters make a practice of visiting their polling place on registration day making certain that their names have been registered.

The country is facing one of the greatest crises in its history and the issues will be decided at the polls on November 5. Never before in the history of the United States have such important questions arisen and it is the duty of every American citizen to cast a

In order to be eligible to cast your vote on these questions you first must be registered.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

A new importance and significance is attached to the observance of Fire Prevention Week this year, which is now being observed, because fires that destroy resources of material and deprive men of jobs endanger national defense. Serious fires in key industries would be a crippling menace to the nation's defensive system.

National fire waste is serious to the nation in peace times and may be tragic in its interin this fight is the patriotic duty of every

It is a startling fact that fire breaks out somewhere in America on the average of one a minute. This continues day and night all year. Fighting fires is an all-year job. Preventing fires should be an all-year job for everybody, and if people would inform themselves about leading fire hazards, they could reduce the number of fires tremendously.

The rising tide of fire waste, writes W. E. Mallalieu of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, threatens national defense. During the early months of this year, fire loss was substantially higher than it was for the same period last year or the year before. And that is taking place at a time when America's intricate industrial machine must be geared to maximum efficiency and maximum production in turning the defense program blue-prints into actual tanks and airplanes and warships and guns.

This year the cause of fire prevention, always vital, is of even more direct importance to all of us-to everyone with a job, everyone with an investment, everyone who wants to see our defense program go forward without a hitch. Such events as National Fire Prevention Week, which is now being nationally observed, are carried on in the interest of every family. Enlist today in the battle against fire. And enlist for the duration of hostilities!

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M. D.

Some years ago I was requested by the government to make a physical examination of 300 boys at a reformatory school. A professor of psychology also examined these boys and our findings were discussed with a judge of a juvenile court.

In getting the family history of these boys I found that in the majority of cases one or both parents were dead, and if alive, were not living together. This meant in some cases the loss of a mother's love, and in other cases the loss of parental discipline. It got "under" me to realize that these boys were in the reformatory, in many cases headed toward a life of crime, because of the loss or the conduct of their parents.

There is another point about children and the home that is now receiving the attention of mental

Dr. Paul H. White, University of Michigan, in the Journal of Pediatrics (children's diseases) states that early recognition and treatment of behavior disorders and emotional conflicts in children can do much to prevent more deeply rooted and serious emotional disturbances in later life The thought is that the family physician or the child specialist, in every case of behavior disorder, in addition to the physical and intellectual life of the child consider also his emotional life as regards his home, school, and other surroundings.

The three main needs of the child are: (a) security: knowing he is wanted in the home; (b) affection of his parents, brothers and sisters; and (c) being able or allowed to do things that will give him a feeling of superiority or equality, not a feeling of

One of the important factors in supplying these three needs is a wholesome family-child relationship in earliy life. If this family-child relationship is destroyed or upset by the loss of a love done by death desertion, there will also be a loss of that feeling of security. Harsh treatment, ridicule, or where discipline is too strict, spoil the emotional life of the

The symptoms caused by this disturbance of family-child relationship are shyness, timidity, day dreaming, night terrors, bed-wetting, loss of appetite and others.

YESTERDAY. Although she is virtually a captive, being escorted to the court of a great Mongolian prince by Temu Darin, the Prince's friend, lovely Lynn Britton cannot put down her interest in Temu altogether. Their car just has been beset by brigands, and to her own surprise Lynn found herself firing against them with her captor.

Time in Prison

New York, Oct. 8 (P).—George Scalise, facing already 10 to 20 years for stealing funds of the Service Workers' Union he once headed, was indicted today for inome tax evasion.

A federal indictment alleged the former president of the Building Service Employes International Union (ALF), had failed to report $274,373.35 in income during the years 1937 to 1939.

Scalise's income, as president of the union during those years, the ndictment asserted, was $314,-643.35, of which he was accused freporting only $40,270.

The indictment specified three ounts—one for each year. Convicon could bring the maximum nalty of five years in prison and 0.000 fine for each count.

Scalise was sentenced yesterday n the state charges, which with ood behavior, might make him ligible for parole from the state ison in 1944, providing no fedal sentence intervened.

WHAT IF IT ISN'T A BOY?" ASKS EMILY POST, IN AN-SWERING INQUIRY OF EX-PECTANT PARENTS.

Parenthesis - They Please, Nickname in Wedding Announcement Problem.

The problem of soon-to-be-parents is how to word the announcements of their son's birth so as to to call him by this nickname. To this of course I can't help won-dering. What if the baby turns out to be a girl? Can she have the same nickname? Or will you just add an e or a on the end of the one you have chosen. But to answer their question: Certainly they may announce whatever name or names they please. The real name in full, and then the nickname under it in parenthesis. Wedding Announcements

Dear Mrs. Post: Must my wedding announcements be printed with my full name, since this is not the same as my parents? All my relatives and friends know that I ran away some years ago and was married, and that mar-riage hardly lasted any time at all. But the man I'm marrying is from a distant place, and I'm not especially keen about broadcasting my earlier mistake to all the strangers on his wedding list. It's not a question of deceiving any one. His family know all about it, of course. In the top picture is the birthday party on Sunday of Betty Ann Tellier, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Tellier of 21 Shufeldt street. Seated, left to right, are Dianne Lifer, Betty Ann Tel-

Answer: You could, I suppose have the announcements read simply "Their daughter Alice." In other words, it is doubtful if any one who knows that your name should read Alice Stuart will criticise further than to think you made an unimportant mistake in etiquette. That is not half so conspicuous as "Their daughter, Mrs." would be, yet this is a mis-take that is made time and time Mr. Stockbridge has become affi-liated with the Rondout Savings again by those who ought to know better.

Willkie to Speak Saturday Evening Rich Looking Draperies At Albany Park

Philip Elting Is Chairman of G.O.P. Committee Arranging Capital 'Willkie Day'

Albany, Oct. 8.—Saturday will be "Wendell Willkie Day" at Hawkins Stadium in Menands, the park where the Albany Senators play their home games in Eastern Baseball League. Preparations are being made to seat upwards of 20,000 persons—some in the grand stand, some in the bleachers, some in the thousands of temporary seats to be erected on the diamond itself.

Seating, parking, traffic and feeding—are some of the problems facing the Albany County Republeaders of Rensselaer and Schenectady counties. In fact, the Republican leaders of many counties are taking an active part in helping the Saturday demonstration to be a truly capital dis-

Mr. Willkie, it is expected now, arrive in Albany from his New England tour about 4 o'clock. He will be met at Union Station in Albany by a reception commit-tee of which Philip Elting, the veteran Ulster County Republican will be chairman. He will have dinner either aboard his private car or at an Albany hotel after a brief public appearance at the station. Then he will leave for the stadium in Menands.

Dozens of police and special officers will be he on hand at the ball park which is in the town of Colonie midway between Albany and Troy on Broadway, the main thoroughfare between those two cities. There are numerous wash. cities. There are numerous parking lots around the park. Some visitors will prefer to leave their cars in Troy or Albany and take buses to the ball park.

Kenneth S. MacAffer, the Albany GOP chairman, will preside at the meeting. Speaker Oswald D. Heck of Schenectady will be chairman while Dean P. Taylor, Renselsen county local forms. Rensselaer county leader, and James E. Cushing, the Schenectady county leader, will assist in introducing the speakers. These will include candidates of the three counties, Representative Bruce Barton, candidate for United States Senate; and Messmore Kendall and Mary V. Donlon, the candidates for Representative-at-

Council Discusses Religion for Army

Episcopal Church Group Considers Conscripts

Kansas City, Oct. 8 (A)-The National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church today discussed plans for religious work among army conscripts and means of safeguarding pastorates of clergymen called to training camps.

The Rev. Alden Drew Kelley of New York submitted the report on conscription plans at a pre-convention meeting of the council, policy making body of the church. The triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America will start tomorrow and continue through October 23.

The report suggested appointment of a commission to keep in touch with clergymen called to training camps and work out a placement program after the training is completed.

HOME BUREAU

"Restyle" Meeting

Women of the county are invited to re-style their last years dresses and bring them up to date under the guidance of a clothing specialist at a Home Bureau meetshows. This is your swag end. specialist at a Home Bureau meet-Gather up the longer edge of ing on Thursday, October 10, at the municipal auditorium. Mrs. Helen Powell Smith of the College of Home Economics at Ithaca will be in charge of the meeting which begins at 10:30 a. m.

In the morning Mrs. Smith will point out what is to be considered in re-styling a garment. Following that, dresses brought in will analyzed for changes by women working in groups.

After lunch suggested changes will be checked by the specialist and further suggestions will be made by her.

Street Work Nears End With colder weather drawing near road work in Kingston is drawing to a close. Employes of the public works board have completed the rebuilding of Cornell street, with the exception of the portion between Broadway and Tremper avenue, and it is expect-ed that the entire street will be completed before the season closes. The public works board is also busy regrading and resurfacing Van Gaasbeek street and East Union street, from Yeomans street to Abruyn street.

Architects Move To Form Society;

The move for organization of answer, in a simple long or short an architectural society received further impetus a few nights since when architects and draftsmen from the mid-Hudson Valley rement at either side of the long gion held a second meeting followelected chairman for the evening and presided over the discussion opening that goes to below the waist and that may button on top or have a concealed fastening of on the need for an organization in the valley. It was agreed that an architectural society would be of inestimable value, both to members of the profession and to the public as a whole, since one of its rime functions would be the conduct of an educational campaign designed to acquaint the public with the architect and the servces he performs.

As a result of the discussion four members were named as a committee to formulate a suitable plan for organization, to be submitted to the next meeting. Members of the committee are Gordon S. Marvel of Newburgh, Albert E. Milliken of Kingston, Robert Noll and John Link of Poughkeepsie. Thursday, October 17, was set as the date for the next meeting, committee to select the place.

Those attending the recent meeting were Merrel G. Maybeck, Middletown; Myron S. Teller, Har-ry Halverson, Augustus Schrowang, Burton Davis, Albert E. Mil-liken, Kingston; Richard Dia-

Democratic Rally Held at Ellenville

Cook and Fowler Give Main Addresses

County Judge Andrew J. Cook. speaking before some 150 people at Ellenville last evening, stressed the need of keeping the courts out of politics and spoke in favor of a non-partisan administration of the law. "When people lose faith in their courts that marks the beginning of the end," said Judge Cook who was appointed on Judge Cook who was appointed on June first by Governor Lehman to succeed the late County Judge Frederick G. Traver. In his talk Judge Cook referred to his career of 35 years as an at-torney and spoke of his represen-tation of Ulster county as a member of the State Assembly to which he was elected as the Re-publican party candidate. While elected as a Republican candidate he said he had always been "in-dependent." He referred to his part in the fight for the construc-tion of the Rondout Creek bridge. Dwelling largely upon the idea of keeping the judiciary out of poli-tics he referred to the Democratic endorsement of Judge Traver and also the fact that the Democratic party had endorsed George Kauf-man when he was a candidate for surrogate. Judge Cook also re-ferred to the importance of the children's court and said that as a result of his own experience as a boy and in bringing up his own family and also in his career as a lawyer he had had the opportunity to learn considerable about juvenile tendencies and felt he was in a position to pass on cases in the best interests of the boys and girls who may reach that court.

N. Jansen Fowler, Democratic candidate for member of assembly, again stated he was in favor of a C.A.A. airport for Kingston and also told his listeners that he was in favor of improvement of the strip of 9-W between Milton and Marlborough where there now exists a two-lane pavement. He also referred to the need of a Democratic Assembly in view of the fact that the governor of the state was of that party and there was need for harmony in order to accomplish most for the benefit of the county.

Other Democratic candidates were present at the rally and spoke briefly.

THEIR MISSION WAS PEACE, NOT WAR—Necks craned upward at the dedication of Washington's new $12,500,000 airport when Douglas B-18 planes of the 9th bombardment group skimmed overhead as part of the ceremony. Planes are from Mitchell field, N. Y. The airport is at Gravelly Point on the Potomac.

SHORT STORY: MOOSE, LOOSE, NOOSE-What freedom this full-grown bull moose had in his travels about Portland, Me., only confused him and he took to the harbor where he swam about desperately trying to find some forested land. Joseph Emerton tried to lend a helping hand and rope. After several hours, a game warden directed the moose back into Cape Elizabeth woods

BOULDER IS THE FALL GUY-Five foamy ribbons of water stretch from Boulder dam outlet valves to an observation ramp where spectators watch this man-made waterfall. The occasion was a test wherein 30,000,000 gallons of water from Lake Mead were released through outlet valves 183 feet above the Colorado river bed. Dam is 726.4 feet above bedrock.

CHURCHILLS ON TOUR—To see for himself what damage Nazi bombings had done to London docks, Britain's prime minister, Winston Churchill, toured the Thames, his wife at his side. Not long after this photo was made, Churchill's strength as government head increased in a cabinet shuffle made necessary by the resignation of Former Prime Minister Chamberlain.

FROSH-No special consideration because of his age does the Rev. Alfred J. Saxe, 73, ask at the University of Florida where he's enrolled as a freshman in the law school. He's a retired Methodist minister from Watkins Glen, N. Y.

Saturday evening greetings were brought by the Rev. A. Mar-lier from St. Peter's Church, Stone Ridge. Inspiring messages were given by the Rev. J. W. Chasey and the Rev. A. Carroll of Kingston.

Sunday was the climax of the celebration. Dr. G. MacDonald, district superintendent of the Newburgh district, gave a stirring massage, taking for his text Romans 8:37. "Nay, in all these things." things we are more than conquerors, through Him that loved us."
Mrs. Raymond Rignall of Kingston sang "But the Lord Is Mindful of His Own." Sunday evening Frederick Snyder, international lecturer of Kingston, spoke.
Mr. Snyder's message was on the Mr. Snyder's message was on the and happenings of the world today. His message was full of pathos and humor leaving the audience with many things to think about. The Kerhonkson Glee Club brought the following messages in song, which were greatly enjoyed: "Praise of Thanksgiving," "Twenty-Third Psalm," "My Anchor Holds." The Rev. A. Marlier of St. Peter's Engograph lier of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Stone Ridge, closed with prayer and benediction.
